

Equine Journey Work

Our equine partners have as much invested in their life and relationship as we do. Often they are beings with which we have history and a familiarity that drew them to you. Exploring that past/present/future is possible with journey work. Light can be shed on behaviors and the root of issues revealed. Things that have been baffling make sense and it can be easier to chart the course going forward. We want to help people be as connected as they wish to be with their wonderful horses. This work is a gift and blessing to offer to those who wish for true understanding of the equines they share this life with.

Sessions take place in person or remotely, and can last anywhere from 45 minutes to over an hour. After connecting with your horse, Jamilee will need a quiet space to conduct her journey work and after finishing will speak you about what was revealed during the session. A follow up email will be sent summarizing the session along with next steps and suggestions.
